STRAIGHT SHOOTING IN THE NAVY.

The Wellfleet correspondent of the N. C. Daily News writes:—H.M.S. Terrible has earned a high reputation for excellence at gunnery practice, the result of much training, and Captain Percy Scott and his crew received well-merited praise for their performances. But recently H.M.S. Ocean has been able to beat the scores of the Terrible and all previous records by taking a lead out of Captain Scott's book. By an extremely simple contrivance the gunners of Ocean have been able to control the aiming of each big gun—have obtained that practice that makes for perfection. An ordinary rifle is attached to the gun, so as to move with it and point in the same direction when the gunners place the sights on the target. A target, proportionately small, is dangled in front of the gun. An iron box, to catch stray shots passing the target, completes the apparatus. By constant exercise the gunners of the Ocean have recently been able to give a wonderful exhibition of marksmanship. They have beaten the record of the Terrible by fifteen hits in the same time. It should be stated that last year mistakes were allowed for and an extra run given, but this year no such allowance has been made. There is a difference, too, in the competing ships that should be noticed. The heaviest guns of the Terrible are 9-inch, but the Ocean carries 12-inch cannon. To give particulars, with her twelve 9-inch guns she fired 100 rounds and hit her target 117 times. When it is observed that all this weight of metal could be thrown into opposing ships in two minutes as a decisive broadside, we get some faint notion of the destructive energy of a modern warship. The four 12-inch guns were fired 25 times and shells were placed on the target 17 times. There were several misses and minor accidents. Of the 6-inch breech-loaders three guns hit a water target at the sixth round, eight and twelve round, respectively. The auxiliary rammers of the biggest guns jammed in one case after the third round, in another after the eighth round. One of these monsters also had a misfire at the sixth round. The range for the heaviest ordnance was about 1,300 yards, and for the smaller weapons it varied between 1,300 and 1,500 yards. On the average a 12-inch gun fired a shot weighing 800 lbs. every 45 seconds. Of the marksmen Gunner Skein stands first with a score of nine rounds and nine hits in one minute. Petty Officer Collins comes next, scoring eight hits in the same time. But these men had charge of 6-inch guns. The target measured 27 ft. by 16 ft. 6 in. It need hardly be added that this splendid feat reflects credit on the officers and men of H.M.S. Ocean. We may be allowed to express the anxious hope that other ships will go and do likewise.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The letter which we publish in another column, dealing with the Public Health Bill now before the Legislative Council, shows that the writer is not only familiar with the operations of the Sanitary Department and of Sanitary officials in England, but that he has other qualifications that entitle his opinions to respect and careful consideration. We disagree with him entirely in his remarks upon qualified architects. The proposed enactment of laws to prevent unqualified persons from acting as architects is the Government's response to a fairly unanimous public demand following upon the disastrous collapse of houses in Cochrane Street and the death of over thirty people. It is true that Hongkong does not offer facilities for unqualified persons to become qualified architects, but neither does it give facilities for unqualified persons becoming qualified medical practitioners, and it would be a bad thing for Hongkong if its Government, for no better reason than that advanced by our correspondent, after the Colony's experience in recent years, were to allow any unqualified person to settle in the Colony, style himself a doctor, and proceed to kill people. The same remark applies to chemists; but whether or not any other profession provided a precedent for local guidance the experience of the Colony is sufficient in itself to call for a check on unqualified persons acting as architects and thereby endangering public life. It is unfair to say that the Government is shirking responsibility by seeking to make house proprietors employ competent architects to supervise the building of their property. The Government, acting in this instance for the public safety, is face to face with house proprietors who seek to run up jerry built properties and to evade as effectively as they can the building regulations of the Colony. The Colony should not be called upon to bear the expense of a highly paid expert to watch the construction of every building in the Colony, and the public ought to welcome, and doubtless does welcome, the present attempt to lay upon house owners the responsibilities which ought to be borne by them and themselves. Properly qualified architects will have too much to lose to connive at some of the malpractices which have come into use in this Colony in recent years. The allegation that the Government intends to create a monopoly for certain architects is, no more justified than would be a similar allegation that the Imperial Government wished to create a monopoly when it insisted that all ship's officers and ship's engineers should hold certificates of competency.

Our correspondent objects to the appointment of a Sanitary Commissioner. Well, this is a reasonable enough objection if he believes that by any other method the sanitary affairs of the Colony would be better administered. That, of course, is chiefly a matter of opinion. We are still of opinion ourselves, in spite of the excellent example set by Dr. Clark, whose tactfulness has enabled him to fill a difficult position with credit to himself, that no official of the Board should have a seat at the Sanitary Board and a vote in its affairs. We are still of opinion that better results would be obtained from an all-powerful Board, constituted on the lines of a Municipal Council, provided local residents would give a portion of their time to this work. But as the Government refuses to grant the Board a free hand, and keeps a control of its administration, the more logical course would be to abolish the Board, create a new Department with the Sanitary Commissioner at the head of it, and make that Commissioner responsible like the head of any other Department. Duality of administration will never be a success. The Sanitary Experts, on the other hand, are of opinion that useful work can be done by the Sanitary Board. This is tantamount to saying that the men likely to accept office are not imbeciles, but the Sanitary Board as constituted will be no more popular than it has been in the past, and what good it might contribute ought to be forthcoming from the Sanitary Commission, who will be the actual source of sanitary improvement in the Colony. If there be any need for special unofficial assistance to conduct the sanitary department of the Colony, it might be argued that it is equally necessary in the other departments of the Colony's administration, and in none more so than in that great spending department—the Public Works Department.

The Coronation Honours.

It is understood that Coronation honours represent the personal choice of the King. His Majesty having asked Lord Salisbury that on this peculiar occasion the selection should rest with himself, Ministers gladly acquiesced. Hence the absence of political tendencies in the list. The honours list meets with very general approval. The Order of Merit, in particular, supplies a long felt want.

Waldsee on S. African War.

A London telegram dated 23rd June says:—Lord Roberts gave a dinner at Portland Place. Count von Waldsee, who visited the King and the British Army, referred to Lord Roberts as the 'ever victorious Field-Marshal.' He observed that German soldiers knew well how difficult and arduous was the task of the British Army in South Africa that had accomplished that task with the utmost devotion to the country, with heroism and with humanity.

P. and O. S. N. Company.

A neat little pamphlet has just been issued by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, describing in terse language the development of the modern P. and O. cargo boat and troopship. The letterpress deals with the new twin-screw steamers Spirita, Soudan, Syria, Somali and Sardinia, all completed during the last year or so, every one of which is competent to perform the functions of any of the Company's Far-eastern mail fleet. The Company's honourable connection with troopship since the days of the Crimean war up to the present time is also briefly dealt with in a very interesting way. The little pamphlet is beautifully illustrated.

Hotel Changes.

A meeting of Justices was held at the Magistrate's this afternoon. Mr. F. A. Hazeldene presided, and the others present were Hon. F. J. Baddeley, J. H. Kemp, C. A. D. Melbourne, A. H. Rennie and H. H. Craig. The first business was consideration of an application from William Young for the transfer of his Publican's Licence to sell and retail intoxicating liquors on the premises situated at No. 2, Shanghai Road, under the Sign of Metropole Hotel, to one Albert Elly. The application was unanimously granted. The meeting then considered an application from Luiz Manuel Lobo for permission to remove his licensed publican's business from No. 142, Queen's Road Central, to Nos. 148 and 150, Queen's Road Central, under the Sign of the Stag Hotel. The application was adjourned for a fortnight in order that applicant should have an opportunity to put certain defects in the sanitary arrangements of the new premises in order.

There were 129 Europeans and 69 Chinese visitors to the City Hall Library, and no visitors to the Museum during the week ending July 6.

Notes by the Way.
There were four cases of plague reported to-day.
The police are still looking for the perpetrator of the recent Des Vaux Road murder.
Republican Senators decline to support President Roosevelt in his policy of reciprocity with Cuba.
In a Canton Echo published yesterday, Tientsin is proclaimed a port or place at which an infectious or contagious disease prevails.
To-day, Wing Kong Koo, an eating-house keeper at Yau-nai, was fined $300 for having a quantity of sansho for sale on his premises without having first obtained a license to sell intoxicating liquor.

The Bishop of London states that when he told the Indian officers quartered at Fulham, of the King's illness, they said 'We will go and pray' and they knelt on the grass for an hour and a half praying.
They do not do things in a hurry in China. A banquet took place last night in Connaught House. The hosts were Chinese, the guests were Chinese, but the whole affair was run on what was intended to be European lines. The invitations, the menus and even the speeches were in English, but there was a sad lack of punctuality which was totally un-English. The glittering invitation announced that the banquet was to be held at six o'clock, but it had turned eight o'clock before soup was seen on the tables.

The Commander-in-Chief.
The London correspondent of an Indian contemporary writes:—Rumours that Lord Roberts will relinquish the Chief Command of the Troops to the Duke of Connaught are discredited in Military circles.

A Prophecy.

A prophecy by Bengali Zakkid, published on the 1st January last, predicting that there would be obstacles in the way of carrying out the grand preparations for the Coronation, is being much commented upon among natives, especially the Mar-waris.

A Huge Floating Dock.

A successful trial has been made with a floating dock built for the Admiralty by Messrs C. S. Swan and Hunter, Limited, of Wallsend, Tyne, for use at Bermuda. The battleship Sangreth, which has 11,000 tons displacement, with armour, guns, and stores, was lifted bodily out of the water on the Midway.

Doctors for River Steamers.

At a meeting of the Sanitary Board held on the 12th June, it was resolved with reference to plague prevention:—That the Government be informed that a more thorough inspection of the shipping will be ensured by the adoption of Professor Simpson's recommendation that three or four boarding officers be appointed to board all ships and junks coming from the Chinese coast, the West River and neighbourhood (not including the waters of the colony) and that, unless a medical officer is carried, every such vessel should be visited by one of the Port health officers before a pratique is granted. If the boarding officer finds that there has been any sickness whatever or any death during the voyage, and further that the Captain and Master passenger steamers should be encouraged to carry properly qualified native doctors during the first six months of each year, who would be required to report any case of sickness that may occur on board during the voyage and to give facilities for the removal of such patient to Hospital, thus avoiding detention of the vessel for the visit of the boarding officer and the medical examination of the passengers. The resolution having been forwarded to Government, Hon. E. H. May, Colonial Secretary, asked if this was meant to apply to the vessels of the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Co., or all the river steamers that run to Canton and the various launches that run to Macao. Dr. Atkinson intimated that he understood it was meant to apply to the boats of the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Company only, and asked members to note this. Colonel Hughes understood the recommendation was to apply to all steamers and other craft. Mr. E. Osborne said it was meant to apply to all vessels alike, and that it would be most unfair to apply the regulation to that Company's steamers only. Dr. Clark, Medical Officer of Health, said the enquiry referred to the 'encouragement' of the carrying of Chinese qualified doctors. This would only be done by the large river steamers, so that there was no question of unfairness. Of course, any steamer that carried a doctor would be exempt from detention, but the small ones, he imagined, would sooner wait than pay for a qualified doctor.

The Rice Crop.

The Foochow Echo of the 5th inst. says:—The reaping of the first crop of rice commenced in the large plain between the city and Kusan this week, and the report of the crop is that it is a full yield of good quality.

Foochow Tea Trade.

The Foochow Echo of the 5th inst. states that the reduction of the tea duty, coupled with the decline in sterling exchange, appears to have acted as a stimulant to the trade, the Export to Europe from this port amounting to 5,593,909 lbs. to date against 3,854,412 lbs. at the corresponding date last year.

Feting Colonials.

A grand fete, called 'London's Welcome to Colonial Troops in Alexandra Park,' took place on the 21st ult. Hugo crowds witnessed the Military Tattoo and march-past of all the Contingents. Finally the Union Jack was hoisted, and saluted with tremendous cheers and 'God Save the King.' London on the following day resembled the route to Epsom on Derby Day. Pleasant summer weather was experienced.

Big Matched Fire.

Yesterday afternoon, another big matched fire occurred at Messrs Butterfield and Swire's dock at Quarry Bay. It broke out at 2 p.m., and assisted by a nice breeze spread so rapidly that in twenty minutes thirteen matchlocks were blazing beyond all hope of saving them. The loss sustained is estimated at $2500 and is (being matched) not insured. The contents of the matchlocks were also destroyed. It is not known what caused the conflagration, and it is not the first of the kind that has happened at Quarry Bay.

A Speedometer.

Captain W. J. Smith, of Seattle, an instructor in navigation and nautical astronomy, has invented a bridge speed recorder—a device for measuring the speed of vessels—which is considered by local marine men to be far in advance of the present-day logs. The device consists of a novel kind of motor wheel mounted fore-and-aft in a convenient and protected place in the ship's bottom, transmitting power by means of a small vertical shaft to recording dials on the bridge, quarter-deck or pilot-house, there being attached to the recording mechanism a device for adjusting the apparatus. A vertical shaft of brass tubing runs smoothly in lignum vitae guides within a suitable pipe, extending above the water-line, and no attempt is made to prevent the sea-water from rising to its level in the pipe. This gives buoyancy to the shaft, which consists of a three-eighths inch hollow tube. A brass collar, running on lignum vitae end-wheels, sustains the remaining weight of the shaft, adding freedom to its action.

Troubles in Fokien.

The rumours current here last week (says the Foochow Echo of the 5th inst.) of troubles at Hing Wha were not without foundation. What occurred, however, was not at Hing Wha itself but at Siang Ju, a city in the Hing Wha prefecture. The troubles arose through discontent about the increased taxation demanded by the Mandarins, and at one time they were regarded as rather serious. But when in addition to this increased taxation a capitation tax of about twenty cash was levied on every individual passing out through the City Gates the people could stand it no longer. The inhabitants of all the surrounding villages assembled and attacked the houses of the gentry, burning down some 60 or 70 of them. It is said that the people in their indignation scorned to take away any of the property or goods found in the houses, but, gathering it altogether, made a heap of it and set fire to it, watching it till all was reduced to ashes. It does not appear that any of the Yamen were attacked, but it is reported that the chief Magistrate fled for his life. The reason of the people having attacked the houses of the gentry only, was because it was supposed that the taxes had been farmed by the gentry and that they were endeavouring to enrich themselves at the expense of the poor people. At first the rioters were bent on wrecking the churches and the mission houses in Siang Ju City, but the majority of the people were opposed to their doing this, and so no harm was done beyond the fright occasioned to the ladies who happened to be on the spot or were working in the district. After the troubles were over, a proclamation was issued warning the people against interfering with the Missions or the Missionaries. The district has now assumed its normal peaceable condition.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SHANGHAI, July 10.

Twelve boys have died in the Mission School at Chefoo from poisoning. The boys had partaken of some old chicken-pie on Sunday last; two of those who became ill have recovered.

One body has been shipped to Shanghai for post-mortem examination.

The official enquiry at Chefoo has been postponed until the result of the post-mortem examination is known.

It is probable that the affair was accidental and was not the result of crime.

ACCIDENT TO MR CHAMBERLAIN.

LONDON, July 8, 1902.

A bulletin issued from Charing Cross Hospital at midnight says that Mr Chamberlain is suffering from a scalp wound, but is free from pain and is comfortable. There is no concussion.

THE LADYSMITH DESPATCHES.

General Buller, with the authority of the War Office, has published the Ladysmith despatches. They show that his counselled the abandonment of Ladysmith after the failure at Colenso, but that Lord Lansdowne advised another attempt being made to relieve the town, and further that General Buller refused to make terms with the enemy. The newspapers unanimously say that General Buller is self-condemned.

THE KING'S PROGRESS.

LONDON, July 8.

This morning's bulletin states that His Majesty's progress (as) that can be desired.
